Bachelor of Science in International Hospitality Management
“EHL prepares you for real life like no other educational institution. It has made me ready for success, but also prepared to get rejected 100 times and still stand up to walk again. EHL nurtures us to dream big, telling us that we are the future leaders of the industry, and it has a huge psychological impact. I’ve had such incredibly unique experiences, not just through the preparatory year (AP) and internships, but by networking and socializing. “Work hard, play hard” was our motto and it’s very true, EHL taught me the crucial balance of studying and building meaningful human interactions. We focus a lot on benevolence, authenticity, family, and respect because being able to embody these qualities is a skill set for life. EHL is a place to truly grow as a person, not just study and leave. I know I wouldn’t have gotten this experience if I had studied anywhere else.”

About EHL

EHL Hospitality Business School was founded in 1893, as the world’s first hotel school, the École hôtelière de Lausanne. Year after year, EHL ranks number one among universities for hospitality management studies, and it ranks among the top 5 schools in Switzerland for management and business.

On campuses in Switzerland and Singapore, EHL prepares students to lead and launch businesses with an approach of dual excellence. It combines practice with theory, and academic rigor with real-world applications. This balanced approach develops valuable soft skills for the future and strategic business know-how for a wide range of international careers.

THE BEST IN THE WORLD

Year after year, EHL achieves top positions in university rankings and industry awards based on academic quality, reputation among employers, and contributions to research. For the last three years in a row, EHL was ranked number one among hospitality management universities worldwide, according to the QS World University Rankings (in 2019, 2020 and 2021).
