Driving Hotel Revenues

Driving Hotel Revenues will develop a comprehensive knowledge base related to three key areas of hospitality marketing and sales:

- » High Performance Distribution for Hotels
- » Revenue Management for Market Leaders
- » Successful Hotel E-Marketing and Social Media Strategies

“Once considered a unique specialty, revenue management has become a core competency for hospitality professionals. Due to diminished opportunities to increase profits via expense control, driving top-line revenue may be the last great frontier for improving hotel performance, making it a key skill for revenue managers, general managers, asset managers, and anyone else wanting to successfully lead hotels in the future.”
