

Accommodation in Singapore

EHL Campus (Singapore)

Accommodation in Singapore

From rooms in HDB (Singapore's public housing) apartments, to entire condominiums apartments, to penthouses, Singapore has a diverse range of accommodation options for students to choose from.

EHL Campus (Singapore) students have the freedom to decide on their accommodation. The following slides provide a sample of accommodation options and support services available in Singapore.

These accommodation sites are located all around Singapore in multiple neighbourhoods and offer a range of features and services depending on student preferences; from weekly cleaning, gyms, and rooftops, the choices are endless. From hostels at $508 per bed, flat-shares starting at S$1,250, and private apartments from S$2,400 onwards, students can decide between having their own space, or sharing an entire apartment with friends.

Students are encouraged to do their own research to find the best fit in location, concept and price-point.

Banda House

About the House

Featuring an easy, no-frills design with some textures to mix things up. Decked with modular everyday furniture that are loose and flexible, you can easily move the pieces around for a different layout that suits your needs.

Smaller rooms with shared bathrooms are perfect for those who want to keep their resting space simple and minimal and use common areas for work and leisure. All rooms have a study desk and chair.

About the Neighbourhood

You are in the heart of a food hub. The Joo Chiat/Katong area has always been cosmopolitan. Tembeling is home to a burgeoning Little Vietnam, but always close to local cuisine like Teochew Steamboat, spicy Nonya, and good ol' Nasi Padang.

Monocot House

About the House

Visitors to Banda House will immediately feel its comfortable aura. The house has layered half floors, characteristic of shophouses, with the kitchen and dining room tucked away from the entryway and living room. A little outdoor seating area is also available on the lower floor.

As a nod towards Chinese and Peranakan aesthetics, which Emerald Hill is known for, the furniture has intricate and rustic details that add to the character of the house. Heading up, the timber frames and panels around doors and in rooms give a cosy feel.

About the Neighbourhood

Emerald Hill is a tranquil residential oasis just off of downtown and Orchard Road. 313 Somerset, Lady M Cake Shop, and library@orchard are just some of the perks of living on this historic street.
